NEXT STEPS

To begin Phase 1 of the project, I'll send over a short brand discovery worksheet designed to clarify your goals, values, audience, tone of voice, and overall brand personality. Once you've had a chance to complete it, we'll schedule a brief kickoff discussion to review your responses, align on the strategic direction, and confirm the visual and verbal foundations for the brand guidelines. This will ensure we start the project with a clear, shared understanding of your identity and objectives.
